Admission is by examination and upon certificate. The course of instruction is divided into schools, leading to degrees of A.B., B.S., B.Ph, and A.M. Attendance at chapel is compulsory. Students are forbidden to carry deadly weapons or to leave the town without permission. The expenses for the year, lasting from September 11 to June 3, are from $150 to $200, of which $40 is for tuition. The sons of clergymen are admitted free, and tuition is refunded in cases of protracted illness. Many gold medals and prizes are annually distributed, and a loan fund to help deserving students has been recently established. The students publish the University Monthly and An-X, and maintain five literary societies with halls and libraries known as the Alamo, San Jacinto, Alethean, Grady, and Clio; two Christian Associations, a lecture course, and an Athletic Association. Chapters of the following fraternities...
